Post Office Status Quo Is Demanded

While U.S. Postal officials seem insistent on a new post office site for Andover, town administrators are even more insistent that a facility be maintained in its present location and took steps this week to demand the present Main Street building be a part of any new building program.

The selectmen, Monday night, following discussion of reports on several postal sites, including the one on Dale Street, recently optioned by the postal service, voted to insist on the Main Street office.

The vote, to be forwarded to John Walker, regional director of the postal service, will note that the town "insists on a full service facility in the downtown area and that it be in the present facility. Should the post office construct a processing facility somewhere in Andover, that building will not have or offer customer or public service."

The decision came after the board had reviewed the Dale Street site and recommendations made by the planning board, its consultant, Town Manager J. Maynard Austin and Assistant Manager Sheldon Cohen.

Included within the recommendations and consideration by the selectmen, is the possibility that the town may have to make some arrangement whereby the town would buy the present post office building and lease it back to the postal service, in order to

High School Roof Repair Could Hit $225,000 Mark

Rain drops could keep trickling through the Andover High School roof for another school year, if reports of cost estimates for proper repairs prove accurate.

While consultants continue their tests and examination of the roof over both the high school and gym, there are reports now indicating that the magnitude of the work is closer to $150,000 to $250,000 for proper repair, rather than the $75,000 estimated several weeks ago.

Town Manager J. Maynard Austin reported this week that some oral reports may be available to be provided to the school committee for its meeting next Tuesday.

Currently the engineers are examining the problem roof, doing their testing work and a written report will be given the manager later.

But some oral reports are expected in time for the school board consideration next week.

The school committee had hoped that the work could be done this summer, in time to avoid any conflict with class schedules.

With the price figure for the work, it would now appear that funds for the job could only be obtained through a special town meeting, considered a most difficult task with the summer vacation season here.

There are other alternatives, which seem improbable.

Funds could be transferred from the reserve fund by the finance committee with a promise of return at the October town meeting.

Depending on the cost factor, there may not be sufficient funds available for the work, based on more recent estimates.

Another alternative would be to go directly to the October town meeting for the funds, which would not allow work to commence until fall or winter, with the latter season considered the culprit in the present roof condition.

This would mean that no work would be done, with the exception of possibly some more patchwork, until the annual town meeting next April is faced with the appropriation of the full amount of repair funds.

Currently being tested by the consultants is the insulation under the roof, to determine if any damage has been caused there, and how much repair is needed

Escaping Summer's Onslaught

A prelude to summer weather arrived this past week, a few days before the calendar actually designates the start of the season. With temperature and humidity high, seeking relief was of prime importance and TOWNSMAN Photographer Ellen Young found

Town House Topics

Open House For New Bathhouse

The Recreation - Community Schools Committee has announced plans for a ribbon cutting ceremony followed by an open house for the newly constructed Pumps Pond Bathhouse, at Pumps Pond, Andover Recreation Park. The ceremonies will commence at 7 p.m., Tuesday, June 22. The dignitaries and public will then inspect the building.

The new bathhouse was designed by Andover architect, Archibald Maclaren. The building is to service the only public bathing beach in Andover. Services include changing rooms, concession service and a first aid station. Town meetings of 1974 and 1975 voted a sum of $90,000 for the construction of the bathhouse. The town will receive 50% reimbursement from the bureau of outdoor recreation, State Department of Executive Offices of Environment Affairs, upon completion of construction.

Ranges To Be Auctioned

The town of Andover will hold an auction Friday, June 18 at 2:30 p.m. at the East Junior High School for six used electric ranges. Terms of the auction will be cash payment or payment to the town of Andover. The ranges must be removed on or before June 25.

Mini Clinic Schedule

The Andover Board of Health has announced the following summer schedule of mini clinics for senior citizens, all scheduled for 2 to 4 p.m.: July 6, The Haven; July 27, 256 North Main St., (new elderly housing); Aug. 3, The Haven; Aug. 10, Chestnut Court; Aug. 17, Ballard Vale United Church; Aug. 24, 256 North Main Street.

Storage Permit Tabled

A petition by Daniel J. Olenio, 82 Ayer St., Methuen, to store an additional 6,000 gallons of gasoline at 96 Haverhill St., was tabled by the selectmen this week at the town manager's request.

Town Manager J. Maynard Austin informed the board he would like additional time to examine the request, in view of a decision by the board of appeals in April denying a request by Olenio to enclose the hydraulic lift at the station.

Austin said he would like to check with town counsel to determine if the increased storage conflicted with the zoning classification of the service station.

The selectmen did grant a permit to the Raytheon Co. to increase their storage of flammable materials by 20,000 gallons in a plant at their West Andover facility.

Parking Prohibited

The selectmen have approved a parking ban on the north side of Bancroft Road between South Main Street and Holt Road. The action followed many complaints concerning the parking of cars during little league games, thus narrowing the roadway to a point where emergency vehicles would have difficulty in passing.

Hussey's Pond For 12-Year-Olds

Hussey's Pond in Shawsheen will continue to be reserved for fishing for those 12 years of age and under. The selectmen Monday night supported the vote of the Recreation - Community Schools committee which had earlier approved the age limitation.

Textile Museum Receives Grant

The Merrimack Valley Textile Museum in North Andover has received a large grant from the National Endowment for the Humanities for an interpretive film program.

The $22,323 award was one of 21 nationwide announced at the recent convention of the American Association of Museums, and will document, on film, the history of Hopedale, Mass.

Using the Museum's permanent collection of more than 3,600 photographs, the films will cover the period of 1890 to 1930, as Hopedale changed from an experiment in communal living to a company town.

Themes to be developed include the role and nature of company paternalism, patterns of family life, and the social and religious milieu of the historic village, the role of private philanthropy, and the meaning of leisure time.

Although the film will be used primarily within the Museum, additional distribution may include library cooperatives, local historical organizations and community groups.

Fathers to Receive Flowers

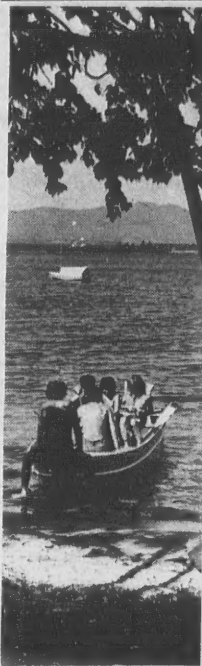

Flowers For Fathers will be handed out to men Saturday, from 9 to 10 a.m. in front of the Andover Savings Bank on Main Street. They will be given in observation of Father's Day by the women and children of the Committee To Ratify the State Equal Rights Amendment - Andover, as a symbol that "equality is for everyone."

The "Committee To Ratify" supports adoption of a state equal rights amendment, which is Question 1 on the November Referendum. The committee is made up of women representing such diverse groups as AAUW, League of Women Voters, NOW, B'nai Brith Women, West Parish Church, the Unitarian Church, Young Republicans, the Democratic Town Committee and the YWCA.

Information regarding a neighborhood coffee or speakers is available from Judy MacDonald, 11 Shawsheen Road.

Miss Nancy Webster, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. John G. Webster, 4 Chadwick Circle, Andover, has been named to the Cum Laude Society of the Pingree School.

Petitions Urge Questions

The Mass. League of Women Voters is presently circulating two initiative petitions, one which would put the Bottle Bill Question on the November ballot, and the other which would put the Handgun Control Question on the ballot.

The League supports these bills.

The Bottle Bill would require a refund value of at least 5 cents on every returnable beverage container and would prohibit the sale of metal containers with flip tops.

The Handgun Bill would ban the private possession and sale of handguns. Anyone who has not previously signed the Initiative Petitions or anyone who would like to help circulate the petitions should contact Maureen Gerstenberger (Bottle Bill) or Joanne Marden (Handgun) before June 21, 1976. If enough signatures are collected, the questions will be placed on the November ballot and voters can decide.

Follansbee Graduate Of Hamilton

Arthur S. Follansbee, son of Mr. and Mrs. Harper Follansbee of 20R Hidden Field, Andover, has received his B.A. Degree from Hamilton College in Clinton, New York.

Mr. Follansbee was one of 235 Hamilton seniors to receive their degrees at the College's June 6 commencement. Hamilton graduation ceremonies honored the American Heritage, awarding honorary degrees to seven guests, including noted painter author Roger Tory Peterson.

Music Students Present Recital

The piano and organ students of Gladys Barnet presented a spring musical program Saturday afternoon at her studio on Maple Avenue. Popular and classical numbers were presented for a group of relatives and friends.

Awards for best attendance were presented to Diane Bogusz and to Brian Durkin of Lawrence, and a social hour followed the program. Refreshments were served by Mrs. Barnet, assisted by Mrs. Gilbert Holmes.

High graduate Mary Jo Leonard, and West Jr. High student John Holmy.

Collins' Address To Graduates

Richard J. Collins, head football coach at Andover High School, was the principal speaker at the school's commencement exercises last week. The text of his address:

Grantland Rice, a famous sportswriter prominent before any member of this graduating class was born, once wrote, "It's not whether you win or lose, it's how you play the game." A pretty corny phrase, isn't it? -- Or is it?

In a letter written in the latest edition of the school newspaper, a letter that impressed me very much, one of the members of this class posed the question, are you going to maintain some idealism in your life, or, as he put it, are you going to sink into the establishment? This is in essence the same question I would like to pose to you tonight. To paraphrase Grantland Rice, how are you going to play the game?

You are headed into a very, very competitive world. Some of you may not like that idea very much, but that's the way it is. Some people look upon competition as evil and a dirty word. They say they would rather cooperate with their brothers than compete with them. Well, the truth is it is not an either-or situation. Cooperation is a wonderful thing. I believe in it very strongly, and God knows we need a great deal more of it. But, there are also times in your life when you are going to have to compete. It is not a case of one alternative or the other.

If you aspire to make something of yourself, you are going to have to compete to do so. Suppose, for example, you desire to become a doctor, or maybe even a great surgeon and save many lives. Well, if you want to become a great surgeon, you are going to have to enter the most intense competition you can imagine to attain that goal. If you have truly noble goals in life, to make the world a better place in which to live, or to do something for your fellow man, then you are going to have to become a leader, and to become a leader, you must compete for the opportunity.

The classic example of the significance of competition in our society is, of course, our political system. We live under what is called a representative democracy. What this means, pure and simple, is that we live under a highly competitive system. That is what elections are all about. As long as we as citizens and voters have a choice of the people who represent us in government, then that is competition. Sure, our political system has its shortcomings and failings. Democracy is a system that rests its authority in the people, and people are not perfect.

But, as Winston Churchill once put it, "Democracy is a very poor system of government, but it is so much better than any other system." Before we are too quick to condemn our democratic, competitive system, we must remember the alternative to it, and the only alternative is dictatorship.

You are all going to compete many times in your lifetime. Some will do so willingly, some not so willingly, but you will all do it. I would like to talk with you tonight about the one thing I have some real experience in -- competition. What I would like to share with you tonight are the three basic principles of competition that I believe in so strongly. These are the three principles that I, along with Will Hixon and all the other coaches in Andover, have tried to instill in our athletes. Think about them, and remember, you do not have to be an athlete to compete.

The first basic principle of competition is honesty and integrity. What you gain by cheating is not worth having.

A very famous football coach, by the name of Vince Lombardi, is credited with having said, "Winning isn't the most important thing, winning is the only thing." The truth of the matter is that Vince Lombardi was a very religious and moral man, and never really said it quite that way. That fact, however, is academic. What is important is that so many people have taken that phrase at its face value. All that counts to them is winning and getting to the top. It makes no difference how they do it as long as they win. They lie, cheat, steal, bend the rules, break the rules, stomp on people and do anything they have to do to get to the top. My friends, this is wrong. It is nothing more than the end justifying the means. Well, let me tell you, the end does not justify the means. The means are very, very important. Cheating is wrong, no matter how young you are when you do it, or no matter how, when, why or where you do it. There is no such thing as being a little bit dishonest. Dishonesty is like being pregnant, either you are or you are not. You all know how I hate quitting. Our football team has had a slogan for the past 17 years -- the word quit does not exist in Andover. Well, cheating is just like quitting, the more you practice it when you're young, the easier it gets to do when you get older.

The second basic principle of

competition is respect for one's opponent. Oh, how important this is. Two years ago I had the pleasure of being involved in the greatest football game I have ever seen, our Super Bowl game with Salem High School. Certainly it was the greatest game I have ever been involved in as a coach -- and I take nothing away from this year's win over Plymouth. Don't get me wrong, I shall never forget Mark Farnham catching that pass with 11 seconds to go, or Billy Alexander throwing to Glen Verrette on the last play of the overtime, or Peter Reilly kicking that game-winning point. I never enjoyed anything so much in all my life. But, the thing I shall always remember most about that game is the way the Salem team played it. Everybody knew our star quarterback, Jeff Winters, had been hurt the previous week and would be playing on a wing and a prayer. It would be an easy matter to put Jeff out of the game, and Andover's chances of winning would be pretty slight. The Salem team, however, held a meeting the week of that game, and agreed they would do nothing in any way to put Jeff out. If they could not beat Andover fairly and with our star quarterback playing, they did not want to beat us at all. Well, they did not beat us. Never once did a Salem player take a cheap shot at Jeff, and God knows they had millions of opportunities. Every time he was knocked down they picked him up, and even checked to see if he was all right. When that game was over, I wrote the Salem coach and his team a letter. In that letter, I said that Salem would always be a winner in my book. They put sportsmanship and respect above winning a football game. I told them, in my opinion, they won more that day than they ever could win by merely scoring more points than an opponent.

If only we could take this idea of respect for one's opponent seriously. If we could, we could eliminate all the rotten and immoral competition that exists in the world. If we could then take it just one step further, and treat everybody with whom we are associated with respect, just think of what a dent we could put into prejudice and intolerance in the world.

The third, and final principle of competition is doing one's best. Never be satisfied with less than your best, and never be afraid to fail. I once had an ABC student who competed for me by the name of Van Debose. Van was one of the finest gentlemen I have ever known, one of the most dedicated athletes, and probably the greatest competitor. Van was a real winner. He was the New England high hurdle champion while he was here and he still holds the school record in that event which he set right here on this field. When Van was first coming up, I wanted to take him to New York to run in a track meet against the best runners on the East Coast. I knew Van was not ready yet for this kind of competition, but I felt it would do him good. On the other hand, I did not want to force him to do something he did not want to do. So, I called Van into my office and I said, "Look, Van, I'd like to take you to New York to run against the best in this part of the country, but I do not want to force you if you do not want to go." Van looked at me and said, "Coach, the only thing that can happen to me is that I can lose." What a profound statement that was, especially coming from a 15 year old young man -- "The only thing that can happen to me is that I can lose."

It is no disgrace to lose, it is no crime to fail, but it is a disgrace and a crime if you do not have the courage to try. It is a sin if you waste your talents, and lots of us sitting here can really do some thinking on that one. It is not a disgrace to lose, but it is a disgrace when you lose because you just go through the motions and don't give your best.

I am going to tell you exactly what the pep talk was that I gave to our football team before both Super Bowl games with Salem and Plymouth. I said to the team in the locker room, just before we went on the field, "Go out there and have a good time, enjoy yourselves. But when you are out there, give 100% every minute. Play every play as if it is the only play you will ever be involved in in your life. Every minute you are on that field do your very best, and then let the chips fall where they may. If we win, we win, and if we lose, we lose, but, when we walk off that field, we will walk off with our heads high and our self-respect." That is the simple message I wish to leave with you all tonight. When you go through life remember these three basic principles of competition and follow them in everything you do. Whatever you become involved in, do your best, never be a quitter, never be afraid to fail, and always give it your best shot. Whatever you do, treat everybody you deal with with respect -- friend and foe alike. And whatever you do, do not be a cheater, do it with honesty and integrity. If you follow these principles, win, lose, or draw, you will walk through life with your head high and your self-respect, and it is the only thing that ever really matters.

Conference Champions

Golfers Win League Title

Andover High School golf team for the second year in a row has boasted a very impressive winning season, this year good enough to win the Merrimack Valley League Team Championship.

Last year's record was 14-2 in the conference losing the team title to Tewksbury on the last match by a score of 4-3. This year's team effort with a 13-2-1 record was a different story. Playing their home matches at Indian Ridge Country Club, outstanding performances were given all season by every member of the team.

John Parrotta, a senior, and for the last two years Merrimack Valley Individual Champion played very impressively alternating with Joe Pasquale for the number one spot on the team. Besides being Co-captains, both John and Joe have been elected to the Merrimack Valley all star team for the past two years. John's record for the past three years playing in the 1 and 2 spots has been a remarkable 42-9-4.

Joe Pasquale, a junior and a superior match and medal play golfer is among the top golfers in the state. This year he was medalist at Essex County Club in a qualifying round of the State Schoolboy Tournament. In the 36

Hole Tournament itself held at Saddle Hill in Hopkinton he has captured third place for the past two years, this year shooting 75-77. Joe is also a local favorite having won many area events such as the intermediate division of the Allan B. Rogers Tournament twice and the Haverhill City Junior Tournament. Joe has also just been elected to the Boston Globe All Star Team. His record to date for the team is, 36-3-1.

Mark Fichera, a junior, who played the no. 3 position was outstanding in match play boasting 15-1 record. Mark is also a top area golfer finishing fifth last year in the intermediate division of the Rogers Tournament.

Dave Walsh, another top junior year golfer played the position and was very commanding in his overall performance.

Kevin Moore and Rick Dow, also juniors alternated at the number 5 and 6 positions and won some key points which helped decide the outcome of the team matches. Dave Fleming, a senior, and the only rookie starter on the team played "super" according to Coach Bob Lawson.

Other members of the team, Jim Wetterberg, Barry Levine, and Bob Beaudine, are rookies who supplied depth to the line-up and promise to be assets next year. Jim Wetterberg, for example went undefeated and untied this year.

In the North shore team playoffs held at Hickory Hill in Methuen, Andover turned in a fine performance finishing third—315 in back of Gloucester—313 and Melrose—311. In this tournament the four lowest scores of each team are counted. Andover's scored were Joe Pasquale 78, John Parrotta 78, and Dave Walsh 79, Mark Fichera, 80, Rick Dow 84, and Dave Fleming 86.

Trumpeter swans were identified in 1632 by Thomas Merton on the Merrimack River, Massachusetts. By 1838 they had been killed off on the East Coast. In 1931, only 35 trumpeters with 15 cygnets were found in western U.S., Massachusetts Audubon notes. As result of preservation and propagation efforts by the U.S. and Canada, the trumpeter population in the Northwest had reached 5,000 by 1971.

Warriors Bow To Amesbury

After an opening upset win over Seabrook, Andover Warriors found itself against Boyle's of Amesbury in Northeast Semi-Pro Baseball league play last week, dropping an 8-7 decision to the pre-season favorite.

On the mound for Amesbury was six foot five Paul Walton, a flame thrower, dueling Dennis Toomey, Andover's smooth flowing left hander.

Andover jumped out with Barenboim reaching on a three base error of a long drive and scoring on a passed ball. Boyle's countered with two in the last of the first. Andover then struck back with four in the third as Karamatopolous singled, Barenboim doubled in an error, Robinson reached on an error, Kun followed with a single scoring Barenboim and Morreo hit a tremendous two run homer.

The lead was short lived as Paul Daneau tied it at five with a three run homer following a base on balls and an error.

Andover scored two in the fifth on Robinson's single, Kun reaching on an error, a double steal and Mark Morreo's two run single. The game was not over yet as Boyle's struck back with three runs in the seventh with two out on some very questionable calls behind the plate. The sixth, had struck out a batter to end the game only to be denied. The result was Andover losing 8-7.

Andover - 6 Georgetown VFW - 2

Andover found itself on the road again as they were at Georgetown VFW on Thursday. The Warriors started with Dave Robinson and the VFW came with Paul Grandmaison.

Georgetown scored first in the second and Andover came back with two in the third on a single by Biff Moriarty, a fielders choice by Karamatopolous, a single by Kun and a single by Ford scoring a run. They added another in the fourth on Corcoran's single, Moriarty's grounder and Mike DiTroia's pinch single.

Andover added two more in the fifth on a walk to Morreo, a triple by McIntyre scoring Morreo. Dave Sweetser then scored Mike Campfield running for McIntyre, the final Andover run came home in the sixth as Kun reached on an error which sent

Roulston Wins Top Crew Award

Andover's John Roulston was named co-winner of the Most Improved Oarsman Award for the University of Pennsylvania's varsity heavyweight crew. The sophomore out of Phillips Academy Andover held down the number three seat on the Quakers' second varsity eight, which enjoyed unparalleled success and a perfect record this spring.

Not only was the second varsity shell of Roulston and company unbeaten through its cup race season, but the boat also swept the three championship events it entered: the San Diego Classic, the Eastern Sprints, and most recently, the National Inter-collegiate Rowing Association Championship.

In fact, thanks to the second varsity eight's victory in the IRA's Kennedy Challenge Trophy race at Syracuse last weekend, the Penn squad was able to collect enough total points to win the James Ten Eyck Trophy representing the overall team national collegiate championship.

him to second, advanced to third on a passed ball and Ford then scored him on a long fly.

The victory by a six to two score didn't come so easy. Dave Robinson was sailing along until he filled the bases in the seventh only to be saved by Keith Verette's sensational catch over his shoulder going away from the plate. The catch saved a certain grand slam homer and Verette was mobbed when the next batter struck out to end the game with the Warriors winning by a 6-2 score.

At Plaistow

Andover's next journey was to Timberlane Regional in Plaistow for a double header on Sunday. Game number one ended in a 5-5 tie which is forced to remain that way by league rules.

Young Mike DiTroia, making his first start of the season had early trouble getting his curve working and was touched for two in the 2nd; two in the fourth and one in the fifth with his teammates getting one in the second as Morreo was hit by a pitch, Robinson reached on a fielder's choice, a stolen base and a single by Don Saab. They garnered another in the third on Morreo's single, McIntyre's walk and Don Saab's single, Craig Traub followed with a single with McIntyre being thrown out at the plate.

The first game for Andover turned out to be a disaster as they lost Lasko Kun with a broken hand. He will be sidelined for approximately four weeks. Also, injured was Dave Robinson who was involved in a collision at home plate with the tying run in game one. Tom Barenboim sidelined with a groin pull and Steve Corcoran with an injured shoulder added to their woes.

Game two saw Don Saab get Andover's only hit behind Bob Hannon, enroute to a 9-1 loss.

Andover will play Tuesday and Thursday at home and be at Seabrook Wednesday.

Tigers Edge Twins For Lead

By Rick Harrison

Something had to give last Monday night, as the American League Twins and Tigers collided in a showdown battle for second-half supremacy of their Major division in the Andover Little League.

The Tigers, fresh off a sweep during a tough three-game week, entered the tilt with a 5-0 record. The Twins were one-half game back at 4-0.

The contest lived up to expectations, with the Twins registering a well-played 4-1 victory before a large crowd at the West Elementary School field.

Neither club has played since that time, so entering tonight's Twins-Indians game the Tigers are now one-half game arrears the Twins at the midway point of the second-half.

The first-half champion Red Sox are also hanging in contention, sporting a 2-2 slate entering action last night, after TOWNSMAN presstime.

Over in the National League, the struggle is on once again between the reincarnated Cardinals and the first-half champion Giants.

The Cards, bouncing back from an opening defeat in the second-half, reeled off four consecutive victories including a 7-4 triumph over the Giants.

The Braves have slacked off to 3-2 after a fast start.

In Minor League play, the NL Pirates dropped their first game of the season, but then whipped the Braves to officially clinch their pennant.

MAJOR LEAGUE

American

Twins, 4-1

Winning pitcher Glen Obermeier rose to the occasion, firing a clutch two-hitter as the Twins leapfrogged past the Tigers into first place, 4-1.

Obermeier, who struck out 11 and walked only two, surrendered two first-inning singles and a pair of early walks before retiring the final 13 batters in order.

Tough-luck losing chucker Scott Tobey spun a four-hitter, fanning six and issuing seven walks.

The rivals traded first inning runs, and it stayed that way (1-1) until the Twins erupted for three markers in the bottom of the fifth.

Brett Pearson slammed an RBI double, and Dave Fredette lashed a two-run single, keying the pivotal fifth frame for the Twins. Brent Ballard and Marty Yaghoorian added singles, while Ed Lewandowski drew a bases-loaded walk in the opening frame to rescue the Twins' first tally.

The winners' keystone combination of shortstop Dave Fredette and second baseman Andy Dion starred defensively.

First-inning singles by Craig Horgan and Pete Rokicki were the lone Tigers' safeties. Jack Kramer played well at first base for the Bengals.

Twins, 4-2

Several days earlier Glen Obermeier weaved his magic around the Red Sox, tossing a five-hitter, fanning four and walking only one in a 4-2 Twins' triumph.

The complete-game losing chucker was Jeff Demers, who suffered his first seasonal setback after four victories. He allowed six hits, whiffed six and didn't permit a walk.

Brett Pearson was the offensive hero with 3-for-3, all doubles, and three RBI. Glen Obermeier ripped a two-bagger, while Dave Fredette and Brent Ballard lashed singles.

Tom Wilkins delivered a two-bagger and single for the Sox, Mark Haddad doubled, Dick Kelley singled and brother Ted Kelley stroked a single.

Neither team made an error in the game, and defensive stalwarts for the Twins were third baseman Jeff Bruk and centerfielder Brian Peters. In the final stanza Peters backtracked to the fence to pull down a long fly by Haddad. The Sox had one baserunner at the time.

Twins, 8-1

The Twins' pitching remained solid behind Jeff Bruk, as he fashioned a five-hitter to stymie the Yankees, 8-1. Jeff struck out six and walked just one.

Brett Pearson doubled in the first inning to stretch his streak to eight straight hits over a three-game period. That was snapped when he skied to the outfield in the third, but Pearson later singled and collected three RBI for the tilt.

Steve Guschoy spiked a pair of hits and scored three runs, while Glen Obermeier drilled a three-run double for the Twins.

The Yankees' offense featured a double by Glenn McIntyre, and singles from John Maginnis, Don Minor, Robbie Slayton and Billy Vickers. Minor was the losing hurler, fanning seven along the way.

Tigers, 10-4

The Tigers opened their three-game week by trimming the Yankees, 10-4, as Scott Tobey unloaded the heavy lumber. At the plate Tobey went 4-for-4, including a brace of doubles and his second solo homerun of the campaign.

Jack Kramer enjoyed a perfect 2-for-2 evening, while winning pitcher Pete Rokicki helped himself by belting a double.

The Bengals strung together a trio of three-run innings, while defensively the leaders were shortstop Matt Wells and second sacker Glenn Acciard.

Don Minor propelled the Yanks' assault with 2-for-3, including a double, while losing hurler Glenn McIntyre hammered a two-bagger.

Tigers, 21-4

Next to drop in the wake of the Tigers' express were the White Sox, who fell victim to five-run third and fourth innings as the Bengals overpowered them, 21-4.

Scott Tobey twirled a five-hitter this time out, fanning 11 and walking five.

Scott Zimmerman took a turn as the offensive hero. The 10-year-old lugger went 4-for-5 with a double and seven big RBI.

Tobey wasn't far behind with 3-for-5, including a two-bagger, and Matt Wells came through with a triple, single and five ribbies.

Defensive top-dogs for the victors were second baseman Zimmerman and pitcher Tobey.

Mike Chiklis muscled his second homerun of the season over the South School fence, and he also singled during a 2-for-3 night for the Sox.

Tigers, 15-11

The Tigers wrapped up their busy week by outslugging the Yankees, 15-11.

The Bengals exploded for six runs in the second inning, and appeared safe after netting six more in the top of the sixth for a comfortable 15-4 cushion. However, the pesky Yanks rallied for seven markers in the last of the sixth to make things close.

E.J. Perry notched the mound victory in his first start, going the route until Matt Wells stepped in to record the final out.

The multi-hit Tigers' charge saw E.J. Perry go 3-for-4 with a triple, while Craig Horgan was 3-for-5 including a three-bagger. Glenn Acciard went 2-for-3 with a double, Scott Tobey 2-for-4 with a double, Matt Wells 2-for-4 and Pete Rokicki 2-for-4.

The Yanks were not slouches at the plate either. Losing pitcher Steve Johnson ripped three safeties in five trips. Jim Terrior was 2-for-2 with a double, John Maginnis 2-for-4, and other doubles were smashed by Chris Valcourt and Glenn McIntyre.

Amidst the offensive rubble Tigers' first baseman Scott Tobey emerged as a defensive star, making two unassisted doubleplays to kill rallies.

White Sox, 9-1

Winning pitcher Mike Chiklis put together his sharpest performance of the year, firing a two-hitter as the Pale Hose whacked the Indians, 9-1. Mike struck out 10 and walked five along the way.

At the plate Chiklis was also a terror, clubbed three hits including a pair of doubles. Richard Grimm chipped in his second bases-empty homerun of the season, a double and a single.

Dan Fleming and Jeff Lindquist laced two hits apiece, while "hot cornerman" Tim Corkery handled four chances flawlessly at third base.

The lone Indians' safeties were by Jeff Parker and Tim Bolduc, both singles. Bob Leber and Jeff Parker shared the pitching duties.

Red Sox, 7-2

The Red Sox kept plugging along with a 7-2 conquest of the Indians, as Jay Madden tossed a six-hitter, whiffed four and walked seven to post his first-ever pitching decision.

Tom Wilkins banged two doubles, scored once and drove in two runs for the Sox. Tom Powers added a run-scoring double and crossed once himself, while Tim Madden laced a two-bagger and scored.

Dick Kelley contributed an RBI single, walked twice and scored twice. Ted Kelley slapped a run-producing single, Jeff Demers singled and Chuck Grazette surprised everyone by legging out a bunt single. defensive standouts included centerfielder Tim Madden and first baseman Mike Haddad.

The Red Sox reeled off a pair of DPs, one around-the-horn, and those were the seventh and eighth twin killings of the year for the Sox.

Tim Bolduc was the loudest noise for the Indians, ringing out two torbles and scoring once. Dave Fluett doubled, Bab Calder drilled a two-bagger for a run, John Best singled and scored on a passed ball in the sixth stanza for the Cubs. R. Flanagan added a single, and Jason Powell was the losing hurler.

Pirates, 14-7

The Pirates squared their second-half ledger at 2-2, and halted the Braves' three-game win skein, outlasting their foe 14-7.

Brian Moriarty blasted a three-run homer and went 4-for-4 to spearhead the Pirates. Winning pitcher Bill Caselden also chalked up a perfect 4-for-4 evening.

Dale Lattanzio added 3-for-4, including a double, while Dave Factor smacked three safeties and Bill Feeney was 2-for-2.

The Braves stayed close as Dave Barker slugged a three-run double and single, losing pitcher Pete Crabtree doubled twice, and Chris Williams stroked a pair of basehits.

Defensive stalwarts for the Braves were catcher John Ingemi and third baseman Jay Morton.

Giants, 7-4

The Giants bounced back from a 7-4 defeat to the Cardinals, whipping the Cubs by that identical 7-4 count.

Jon Pelletier ignited the offense with 3-4, Steve Smith chipped in two hits and two RBI, while other timely safeties for the Giants were J.J. Downey, winning chucker Carmen Scarpa and Mike Lucey.

The airtight Giants' defense was led by third baseman Steve Smith, shortstop Jon Pelletier, first sacker Scott Smith and rightfielder Mike Lucey.

Flexing his biceps for the Cubs was Tom Galvin, who cracked a three-run homer, while Jason Powell drilled a double and single. Tom Lyons had two singles, and defensive wizards for the Cubs included catcher Jason Powell, shortstop

Jerry Weaver and second baseman John Best.

MINOR LEAGUE National

Pirates, 13-4

The Pirates boosted their overall record to a dazzling 11-1-1, securing the NL Minor flag with a 13-4 victory over the Braves.

Wayne Carver and Andy Slade shared the pitching duties for Manager Tim O'Shea, Dana Demers, Sean O'Shea, Andy Slade and Bill Murphy.

Reds, 15-9

The Reds broke open a 4-4 game in the fourth inning, striking for 11 runs during the last two stanzas enroute to a 15-9 victory over the Giants.

Tim White was a deserving winning pitcher, surrendering only four runs during his four-inning stint.

The Reds' attack was highlighted by key hits from Ralph Dellatto, John McAllister, Wayne Elowe and Danny O'Hara.

Reds, 13-7

The Reds next leveled their overall record at 5-5, upsetting the second-place Cardinals and bouncing them out of title contention with a 13-7 victory.

The Cards didn't "die" easily, however, rallying for five runs in the bottom of the fifth to overcome a 7-2 deficit and tie the game 7-7. The Reds were equal to the challenge, however, rebounding for the six deciding runs in the sixth before blanking the Cards in the home half of that final inning.

Eric Feingold belted a three-run homer and two singles for the Reds, while Ralph Dellatto laced three safeties, Barry Feingold two and Vito Caiati a pair.

Doug Aikman registered the mound triumph, and defensive falshes for the Reds were rightfielder Art Muldoon, catcher Wayne Elowe and first baseman Mike Gardner.

Ruthers Feast On Enemy Hurlers

Chuck Souter

... outstanding defense

Brian Kelly

... key double and single

By Rick Harrison

Getting its offense in gear, and keeping the pitching and defense sharp, the Andover Babe Ruth baseball team feasted on enemy pitching last week enroute to a pair of lopsided victories.

The locals stretched their win streak to three games, belting South Lawrence West 11-3 at Mount Vernon Park, and blanking South Lawrence East 9-0 at the Andover Playstead behind the near-perfect hurling of right-hander Dan Grams.

The twin victories boosted Andover Greater-Lawrence League record to 4-1, while the overall regular-season slate now reads 5-1.

The locals launched the toughest week of their schedule last Tuesday night after TOWNSMAN presstime, when they battled third-place Tower Hill (4-2) on the road.

Last night Andover was slated to face North Andover (3-1) in another away contest, while tonight first-place Metuen invades the Playstead for a 6 p.m. showdown.

Andover banged out 31 hits in the two victories last week, giving the club 46 safeties in the last three games.

Grams' one-hit shutout in his first start of the season gave Andover pitchers three league shutouts, and four blank jobs overall in six games. The team permitted only four runs in those six contests.

SLW Falls, 11-3

Lefthander Dave Birnbach registered his second victory in three decisions, scattering six hits as Andover toppled South Lawrence West, 11-3.

The locals collected their first run in the opening stanza when Dave Farrell reached on an outfield error, took second on Dave Birnbach's bunt, and scored when Chuck Souter lashed a basehit.

Dan Grams and Joe Cammarata later walked to load the bases, but SLW starter Steve Kurek escaped the jam after Bob Patterson skied deep to center-field on a 3-2 serve.

The winners broke the game open in the third inning with three runs. Souter was nicked by a pitch, and with one out Grams singled moving Souter to third. Grams advanced to second base on the throw, and Joe Cammarata rescued bot runners with a single up-the-middle through the drawn-in SLW infield.

Cammarata circled the bases for the eventual winning run on the same play, as the ball bounded past the SLW center-fielder.

Andover remained in complete command the rest of the way, spiking 14 safeties off four SLW pitchers. Lou Bosse, Pete Jarrett and Don Nolet enjoyed varying degrees of success after Kurek was knocked from the box.

Dave Farrell drilled three singles in six trips and scored three times for the victors. Souter was 2-for-2 officially, reached base five times and scored three runs.

Joe Cammarata was also 2-for-2. Dan Grams slammed one hit, scored twice and notched two RBI.

Catcher Brian Kelly hammered a solid RBI double down the leftfield line, and also poked a single during a 2-for-5 night. Roundin out the attack with singles were Larry Larrabee and Bob Heidt.

Ed Hickey stroked two singles for SLW, while Ray Deshar-nais clouted a run-scoring triple. Other hits for the losers were singles by Nick Guerrera and Kurek.

Dave Farrell keyed another fine defensive effort by the infield, handling eight chances flawlessly and initiating Andover's fourth doubleplay of the campaign.

Grams Near-Perfect

Dan Grams made his mound debut a memorable one, coming within a whisker of a perfect game as Andover blanked South Lawrence East, 9-1.

Grams faced 22 batters, one over the minimum, and the lone runner was Mike Grillo who pulled a pitch through the short-stop hole for a clean single to leftfield with two outs in the first inning.

The Andover righthander then proceeded to retire 19 straight hitters, striking out seven and walking none. He whiffed the side in the second and fanned two in the fifth inning.

Only one ball was hit out of the infield, a lazy fly to center which Dave Birnbach handled easily, and there was nothing else close to a basehit.

While Grams was baffling SLE, the noisy Andover bats rang out 17 more hits against four East hurlers.

The locals wrapped up the decision early, pouring across six runs in the first inning. In that stanza Dave Farrell cracked an RBI double, Larry Larrabee and Grams delivered run-producing singles, and Steve Serlev slammed a long two-run triple to

Mini Marathon Scheduled

The Second Annual Andover-North Andover Y.M.C.A. Mini-Marathon will be conducted on Sunday, June 20 at 1 p.m. beginning at the new Y.M.C.A. building's parking lot at 165 Haverhill St., Andover. The 3.3 mile event is intended to provide a challenge for joggers rather than to be highly competitive. It is hoped that individuals will enter to test individual abilities against the course, regardless of caliber of the runner.

Entries are presently being accepted at the new Y.M.C.A. building and blanks are available to joggers of any age, both male and female, and the event is not limited to Y.M.C.A. members. Awards will be presented by Y.M.C.A. Physical Director Walter J. Kimball, Sr. to the top performers in some seven classifications of contestants including males and females in five age groups.

The records dropped like flies last Friday, during the annual Andover Elementary School Track Meet. Youngsters from all of the town's elementaries gathered at the high school track for a morning of contests. Details of the meet will appear in next week's TOWNSMAN.

yard run. Below, members of the physically handicapped class at West Elementary School get track-side seats for the event. They also participated in the softball throw.

Howe Is Elected Chamber President

Andover Chamber of Commerce officers and directors were elected for 1976-77 at the Chamber's business meeting at the Andover Inn on Thursday, June 3, 1976.

Douglas N. Howe, Jr., real estate sales manager with the Howe Agency, Real Estate and Insurance, was elected President. He replaces Atty. Andrew F. Shea. Atty. Shea served as Chamber President during a very successful and eventful year.

Mr. Howe is a graduate of Kimball Union Academy and Colby College and served for five years as a USAF pilot. He joined the Howe Agency in July of 1972. Howe is a director in the Family Service Association. He is also a director of the Andover Red Cross, a member of the Andover Jaycees and a director of the Greater Lawrence Board of Realtors.

Vice Presidents elected were: Richard C. MacGowan, Vice President of the Andover Savings Bank and Anthony Didio of the Raytheon Company who has just returned after two years in Italy on a special work assignment for the company.

John H. Obert, Assistant Vice President of BayBank Merrimack Valley has been re-ected for a second term to serve as Secretary/Clerk of the Corporation.

Appointed by the officers and directors to complete the term of James P. Gordon, who has resigned, was James L. Abramson of Capital Distributing. His term will end in 1977.

Directors elected to serve for a two year term are: Richard C. MacGowan, Andover Savings Bank; Francis J. Trombly, Trombly Motor Coach; Atty. William Dalton, Dalton, Dalton, Asoian & McGarry; Douglas N. Howe, Jr., The Howe Agency, Real Estate and Insurance; Jeffrey S. French, Olde Village Flower Shop; Robert Finlayson, Real Estate Guide; Mary Doherty, Doherty Insurance and Real Estate; and Anthony Didio, Raytheon Company.

President Shea commended the directors who have worked with him during the past year and presented the retiring directors with a desk set as an acknowledgment of the time and effort they have devoted to the Andover Chamber of Commerce. The retiring directors are: Beatrice J. Collins, Collins Realty; Frank McBride, MacDonald and Pangione; Thomas Curtin, McDonald's; and John Callahan, John Callahan Associates.

Paul Gmyrek, who headed the Center Merchants Association, receives the President's Award from Atty. Andrew F. Shea, chamber president, with Curtis Martha, annual meeting chairman applauding the decision.

Retiring President Atty. Andrew F. Shea addresses the session, extending his thanks and giving his report of activity for the year.

Thoughts From An Editor's Desk

By Robert E. Finneran
Managing Editor

Occasionally one's mind fills with varied thoughts, and being in this particular business, the opportunity is presented to vent those feelings.

Thus, today, exempting corporate opinion and laying responsibility at the head from which these ramblings stem, we shall proceed toward such things as:

Barrels

Roger Williams would have had a most difficult time founding Rhode Island and Providence Plantations were he banished from the Bay Colony today.

Roger, history tells us, was banished for religious differences with the powers that be in the old Bay Colony, and headed south.

That was in 1636.

If conditions were the same in 1976, Rog would have had a pretty tough time getting to his destination.

Seems the Commonwealth of Taxachusetts has selected this time of year to do extensive road work on Routes 495 and 95, thus placing barrels practically the length and breadth of the two major highways.

Roger's horse would have been startled and alarmed, if not fraught with dismay, attempting to find his path amid the orange and white barrels, blinking intermittently, much the same as today's motorists.

The two routes are selected only for the prominence of the barrels, which are rented to the tune of a dollar a day, or something like that.

But the conditions exist on many major highways in the Commonwealth in this Bicentennial year.

Could be, however, that our astute public officials have provided an economical route for those who may be visiting historic sites here this year.

You see, Dad, as the driver, can dodge the barreled maze of highways while proceeding to the historic sites, thus giving the kids a thrill and avoiding visits to amusement parks.

Fort Devens

A visit to Fort Devens by the Secretary of the Army this week was billed as an inspection tour to view the facility as part of the Army's exercise in economy.

The military installation has been under threat of being closed in an economic move by the federal government.

The Ayer facility represents one of the last major defense installations in New England, which should be reason enough for its retention.

But Sec. Hoffman indicated that some economies must be effected at Devens if it is to remain in operation and not reduced to the status of a camp.

Federal government views on economy are somewhat startling.

Case in point, the closing of Naval bases at Newport and Quonset, R.I., where docking facilities were available for the Navy's largest ships. The ships, thus tied up there, could be provided with power, sanitary facilities, etc., at the dock or port.

Moved to southern waters and bases, the ships now must tie up far from shore, personnel be transported, power maintained aboard ship and non-polluting maintenance of sanitary facilities in doubt.

This decision from a government which advises its people, "Don't be fuelish and don't pollute."

Post Office

The financially plagued U.S. Postal Service is intent on building a new processing plant in Andover, finding locations for such a facility in places least desirable to town officials and some residents.

Local officials are adamant to allow the post office to move from the center of town, with a proposal put forth this week that, as a last resort, the town might have to buy the present post office building and lease it back to the government in order to retain the facility downtown.

Can someone explain why the post office, which owns the building, tax-free, should have to sell the structure to the town, which can't afford to be in the real estate business?

Can't the post office figure that the building they currently operate out of should remain as a service facility, with needed expanded boxes, and maybe build a processing plant somewhere else?

After all, if it's economy the post office is looking toward, you sure can't beat the rent of the present site.

Finally

With those thoughts, we would reserve comment on the current scandals in our national capital where our Congressmen are involved with girls of a certain type who can't type.

But it all provides the indicators as to why a peanut farmer from Georgia and a Californian from the world of celluloid are jockeying for position to assume a four-year mortgage at 1600 Pennsylvania Avenue.

Down The Years With The Townsman

75 Years Ago - June, 1901

The nine graduates of the Punchard Free School who received their diplomas at exercises last night will be honored at a reception by the alumni tonight. The graduates are Margaret Anderson, Florence L. Baldwin, Joanna C. Downing, Mary E. Gledhill, Elsie A. Holt, Edith B. Hunter, George C. Chandler, William M. Flint, Fred S. Phelps.

The four local plumbers have announced they will close their stores during the summer vacation season every night at 6 o'clock, except on Saturdays when they will remain open until 10.

The new president of the trustees of Abbot Academy, Col. Ripley, signed the diplomas and was present for all the graduation exercises.

The Lawrence Gas Co. has installed many of the house service pipes and it is anticipated the stoves will be delivered and installed soon. It will be a very short time now to the moment when illuminating gas will be an actuality in Andover.

A new coal elevator was installed at the Tyler Rubber Co., and was started for the first time on Thursday. It is 50 feet high and is constructed of iron with buckets on an endless chain run by an electric motor.

50 Years Ago - June, 1926

Andover members of the Merrimack Valley Country Club ranked high in the qualifying round for the club championship last weekend. Heading the list was J. F. O'Connell with an 81 and Dr. C. P. Gabeler with an 82.

Miss Miriam Sweeney of Central Street has been appointed music supervisor of the public schools, succeeding Miss Helen Duguid who has accepted a similar position in New Haven, Conn.

Caronell Cottage, to the rear of the Caronell apartments, will be occupied by Miss Josephine Hammond, of the department of English literature, Abbot Academy, as home and study on July 1.

The selectmen held a meeting

Monday afternoon and appointed the following special police officers for the year: Fire Chief Charles F. Emerson, Jessie Billinton and Harry Thomas.

Miss Edith Valpey, librarian at Piedmont College, Demorest, Georgia, is spending the summer in Andover. At present she is the guest of Miss Florence Parker of Summer Street.

25 Years Ago - June, 1951

The selectmen have called for a special town meeting for June 25 to act on a rezoning issue involving Shawsheen Square, and to appropriate funds to purchase land adjacent to the Central School.

The assessors have indicated that a tax rate of $4 to $40 per thousand based on figures presented to the state for approval.

Rev. Robert J. McClune has been assigned as the new pastor of the Ballardvale Methodist Church.

Among the members of the 173rd graduating class at Phillips Academy were George F. Bernardin, Edward J. Carey, Jr., Leonard L. M. Jones, Winfield M. Sides, Jr., and Peter A. Stern, of Andover.

John M. Murray, Harold Rutter, Barbara Loomer and Albert Cole, Jr., representing the Andover Chapter, American Red Cross, attended a meeting in Lawrence to discuss mutual aid in case of disaster.

10 Years Ago - June, 1966

School board adopts policy on teacher-pupil ratio of 25 to 1 at the elementary level, and 16 to 1 at the secondary level.

Virginia Berg, Sharon Briggs, Susan Dimlich and Kathleen Muller are essayists for the Andover High graduation exercises.

Bob Hadam and Bill Gower have been elected co-captains of the track team at Andover High for next season.

Selectmen unwilling to act on move by Selectman Sidney P. White to support a new town hall on the municipal parking lot site. White had previously favored the Musgrove Building area for a new town facility.

For Those Of Us Who Are Older

Two very busy days are coming up for Andover's senior citizens. Friday, June 25, is Andover Bazaar Day and The Haven will be sponsoring two tables. One will be their usual supply of superb baked goods and the other one of attic treasures. All senior citizens are invited to contribute to both tables and all Andover is invited to come and buy.

The second big day is June 26 at North Shore Music Theatre in Beverly for a matinee performance of "Shenandoah" starring John Raitt. The cost is $6.75 and includes transportation, lunch, a fashion show and the theater performance plus all tips and gratuities. There are still tickets available at The Haven. Why not get a group together for this gala event?

Only the crewel and painting classes are still in session at The Haven and will continue to be so until the end of June.

Every Wednesday there is a free swim for senior citizens at the Andover - North Andover YMCA from 10:30 to 11:45 a.m. If there is a need for transportation, call The Haven to make arrangements.

In August The Haven is planning another party at the North Shore Theatre, this time to see Ginger Rogers in her variety show. The date is August 21 and the price is $7.75 and as for the "Shenandoah" affair, will include transportation, lunch, a fashion show, all tips.

does CHRISTIAN SCIENCE REALLY HEAL?

Yes, It does. Because the healing Principle taught and practiced by Christ Jesus can apply to anyone at any time. New proofs of its healing power occur every day. Healing in Christian Science means much more than physical release. It means a victory over fear. A clearer understanding of God, and of yourself.

You're invited to learn more at our Sunday service. The Bible Lesson you'll hear will explain more of how Christian Science heals.

Won't you come this Sunday?

Official Medal On Display

In 1974, following a statewide contest, Ms. Peg Stetson of Tewksbury was selected as the winner of the Official Massachusetts Bicentennial Medal competition. Post Office

maintain the facility in the central business district.

Both Selectman Richard J. Bowen and Janet D. Lake noted that in all discussions of the post office and the insistence on retention of downtown service, this was the first time that emphasis was placed on retaining the present facility.

The planning board, in its recommendations, noted the importance of the post office to the central business district.

The board indicated that the Dale Street location, the second to be considered by the post office department, was all right if the assurance could be given to the downtown area.

Dale Street location is the second to be optioned by the post office department, which has indicated the need for a new building for its processing and bulk mailing plant. Previously, the post office had taken an option on Sid White's property on Andover Street, across from the American Power Devices plant, but dropped the location following strong public protest.

Stanley Saba of the planning board told the selectmen that his board and consultants looked at the central business district as having three anchor points, the library, town hall and the post office. A survey had indicated that one out of two families visits the post office almost daily.

While officials have indicated they would maintain full downtown service if, and when, a new facility were constructed, Andover officials have serious doubts as to the length of time that service would be maintained.

Running through all of the reports examined by the selectmen Monday, was the underlying thought that while there is the promise at present, with economies being urged upon the postal service, a consolidation of all services could be anticipated within a five year period.

Thus the paramount fear of what would happen to any downtown facility, if a new processing plant is constructed.

Assistant Manager Cohen indicated that the Dale Street site was the worst of several under consideration by either the post office, or the town.

In practically unanimous agreement among the local officials, is the fact that Purity Supreme on Park Street would be a good alternate location, but Purity earlier this year said it didn't want to be considered.

Other sites include Stevens Street, Lowell Street, near Route 93 and Frontage Road (off Dascomb Road), and Shawsheen Plaza.

Town Manager Austin suggested the town should pursue a course of attempting to obtain "the best of both worlds", a downtown public service facility and a bulk processing plant elsewhere in the community.

Austin said that the trucks which would be used to service a processing facility do not belong in a downtown area, adding further congestion. He emphasized that the customer service facility was, however, a major necessity in the downtown area.

Saba said that if the assurance could come on the maintenance of the public service center downtown, "then the processing facility could be anywhere, including Methuen".

Chairman Milton Greenberg said that he felt the post office department was not being very cooperative since they had indicated after the White property had been dropped, they would work with local officials. Now, Greenberg said, they come up with the Dale Street site. "They are just going to keep optioning sites, and we will be going back and forth."

Cohen said that postal officials indicated they had 120 sites under consideration in the New England area and didn't have time to concentrate on one.

Austin pointed out that while the town had alternative sites to offer to the post office department, there was a question as to whether they are marketable or available.

The general tenor throughout the session was the obtaining of a firm commitment to the downtown area of the public service portion

Counting The Days

It's too hot to be in school, Andover youngsters were complaining this week, as they counted the days until summer officially arrives for them. Meanwhile, these East Jr. High pupils sought some after-school relief at the ice cream truck parked outside.

Town House Topics

Mosquitoes Invade Meeting

The open-windowed meeting in the library made for some brief continued discussion of the town's mosquito problems Monday night.

Mosquitoes made visitation during the session, with one being so bold as to proceed toward Selectman Alan F. French, who has opposed mosquito control measures the past few years.

Selectman Janet D. Lake was quick to point out the invasion of the insects, with French casting doubt that it was, in fact, a mosquito.

Sensing a diversion from the agenda, Chairman Milton Greenberg pronounced the insect a "fly in mosquito clothing", and further discussion of any pros and cons about mosquito control was avoided.

School Roof

in this material.

Patching the high school roof has been going on for the past few years. A bubbling condition precedes the breakdown of the roofing material, and is alleged to stem back to the original installation. The roof was placed in winter and has been patched in winter.

Bonds provided the town to support the roof installation have now reduced in value to about $3,500.

When the problem was presented at a school committee meeting about a month ago, the ball park figure given for repair was $75,000.

But subsequent reports have altered the figure substantially.

The school department maintenance budget, approved annually, provides funds for small minor repair problems, to include carpentry, some roofing work and plumbing.

The high school roof has been patched from time to time, according to Kenneth R. Seifert, superintendent of schools, but during the past year, it really gave out, Seifert said.

Breakfast Tickets Available

Tickets for the ecumenical breakfast to be served on July 4 following the ecumenical bicentennial service at Cochran Chapel are now on sale at all Andover churches, Liggetts Drug in the Shawsheen Plaza and Thompson's on Main Street.

The breakfast will be served from 10:30 a.m. to noon at the academy.
